TO USE DIAMOND DRILLS IN THE U. I. CON. GROUPS

(Special to The Republican)

JEEROME, Ariz., Sept. 30.—In line with the recommendations of Engineers of the United Verde Consolidated Copper Company is arranging to diamond drill the United Verde Junior and Mahurin groups.

In all probability there is ore at both properties, says Bethune, and the quickest way to locate it is to use diamond drills.

Bethune thinks so highly of the United Verde Consolidated holdings that he has accepted the position as chief engineer and superintendent of the company. He is now in Kingman packing his elaborate metallurgical equipment and sampling works for shipment to Jerome. It will be set on the United Verde Junior, a mile and a half south of the camp.

At numerous points on the United Verde Junior, Bethune found pyrite, chalcopryite, bornite, sulphide and oxidized copper ores. "Surface indications and the development of surrounding mines make the outlook for commercial ore bodies encouraging and development is warranted," he says.

Bethune plans to start the diamond drill in the face of number 3 tunnel, 350 feet in from the portal, and drive to the contact, the thousand feet distant. The contact will be cut to a depth of more than a thousand feet.

"I think that the company had better use a diamond drill to demonstrate the exact location of the ore, the surface indications being very favorable," says Bethune, in summing up his findings on the Mahurin group. The Mahurin property, according to the engineer, is favorably located for economical mining, with plenty of wood and enough water for even a smelter.

All over the surface of the twenty-two Mahurin claims Bethune found heavy iron and copper outcrops. Articles of incorporation of the United Verde Consolidated Company will be filed with the Arizona Corporation Commission Monday. It is to be capitalized for one million, five hundred thousand shares, having a par value of five dollars.

Originally it was planned to make the par value of the shares one dollar, but the unprecedented demand for shares, and the fact that the engineer's report is far more satisfactory than they expected, caused the organizers to consider raising the par value, however, they took final action, however, they telegraphed to some fifty leading brokers in all parts of the United States. A great majority of the brokers recommended that the par be fixed at five dollars, explaining that it would give the company a better standing among investors and tend to create a better market for the stock.

Stocks are being taken by the United Verde Consolidated organizers to control the price at which the treasury stock is sold to the public. Brokers are not to be allowed to reserve large blocks at the price fixed by the company, then take advantage of the demand to sell the shares to the investing public at inflated prices.

Page advertisements will appear Sunday morning in the leading morning papers of Arizona, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Birmingham, Baltimore, El Paso, Salt Lake, Detroit, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Louis, and other large cities, announcing when the books will be open and the price at which the stock will be sold.

That the treasury stock will be over subscribed several hundred thousands of shares is now a settled fact. It is regarded locally as a certainty that the price of shares will advance sharply as soon as the issue is disposed of by the company.

DOUBLE CONTINENT CROSSING BY HUDSON
San Francisco to New York and return in the astonishing time of ten days, twenty-one hours and thirty minutes by automobile is the double record just made by a Hudson Super-Six.

Not satisfied with breaking the one way record from ocean to ocean, the same car that made the run from San Francisco to New York last week in five days, three hours and thirty-one minutes, turned right around and left New York the same day, reaching San Francisco in five days, seventeen hours and thirty-three minutes.

On the eastward trip the Super-Six smashed the best previous record by fourteen hours and fifty-nine minutes, and on the return trip in spite of terrific rainstorms and deep mud across the Nevada desert, again broke the lowest record, thus establishing a double transcontinental record which is considered an utter impossibility.

No other car in history has ever been subjected to such a severe test of stamina, stability and endurance, yet the Super-Six upon arriving in San Francisco was running as smoothly as when it started on its great double transcontinental record-breaking trip. The total distance of this double trip was 8,352 miles, nearly 700 miles a day continuously fighting its way, twice through the terrific heat of the American desert, the almost bottomless sinks of Western Nevada, long stretches of gumbo in Nebraska, the badlands of Wyoming, the high Sierras at nearly two miles above sea-level and the transcontinental divide at over 8,000 feet above sea-level.

On its first trip the Super-Six left San Francisco Wednesday morning, September 12, reached New York in five days, three hours and thirty-one minutes. It left there the same day at 10:56 p. m. and arrived in San Francisco Sunday afternoon, September 24, at 1 p. m. Several thousand enthusiastic motorists gathered at San Francisco to welcome the car and its crew on the conclusion of this great, double transcontinental run.

WEDDING OF MISS PERKINS TO MR. FREEMAN BRILLIANT EVENT

The nation's most brilliant social event of the week, was one which concerns a Phoenix man, Russell Freeman, of the Berryhill Company. It was the marriage of his son Edward Woodley Freeman, a week ago yesterday to Miss Dorothy Perkins, daughter of George W. Perkins, of New York, the chief financier of the country. The wedding was celebrated at Riverside, New York, in the presence of the foremost representatives of New York political, social and financial life.

The groom is a graduate of Yale, where he became a noted athlete and won a place in the Yale rowing crew. The "Wedding in his home, was borne by his ancestors of three generations who earned the naval title of commodore. After leaving the university, Mr. Freeman entered the great banking house of Geo. W. Perkins & Company.

All the New York papers contained long accounts last Sunday morning of the brilliant event. The following taken from the New York Herald: "In the presence of a small assembly in the Riverside Presbyterian church today, Miss Dorothy Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Perkins, of Riverside, was married to Mr. Edward Woodley Freeman, of Riverside, previously of St. Paul, Minn. The church was decorated with roses and greenery from Mr. Perkins' conservatories, which cover much ground at Glendora, his country place, where a reception was held after the service. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ira S. Dodd.

"The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin, with old lace and court train of broadened satin. Her tulle veil was caught up in coronet style with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. Her only attendant was Miss Dorothy Freeman, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a gown of old rose, shaded to feta with a picture hat of the same shades with plumes and carried pink roses.

Mr. Traver took the place of Mr. Benjamin R. C. Low, who was obliged to withdraw as usher owing to the death of his uncle, Seth Low.

BOOZE BOODLE AND LIBERTY TOMORROW
Leonard Martin of Boston, will speak this afternoon on "Booze Boodle and Liberty" at the court house plaza at 3 p. m.

The Temperance Federation has arranged to hold a meeting every Sunday afternoon until election at the court house plaza, where they will have some speaker of note to address the voters of Phoenix on the liquor amendments. Mr. Martin who speaks this afternoon is touring the state in the interests of the amendment petitioned for by the temperance federation, and has been received splendidly wherever he has spoken. He is different. His stories mixed with his logic and delivered with a punch, entertains, instructs, and fills his hearers with enthusiasm. According to his own testimony, he was born in the east when he was a boy, is a newspaper writer by trade, a politician by instinct, and a prohibitionist by choice. Rum made a new way out of him when he was but eight years of age and forced him to earn his way and to get his education in the University of Hard Knocks. His is the message of a red blooded man to men and women who like the truth, and who like it presented with force and with the weight of conviction.

ing north as he is reported to have threatened.

One theory to account for moving to Cushiuiachic is that he hopes to secure supplies there. He was reported in recent advices as needing clothing and forage.

No movements of Carranza troops toward the Cushiuiachic regions are known at headquarters.

Say Villa Defeated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—State department reports of the recent fighting between Carranza soldiers and Villa bands at Cushiuiachic in the state of Chihuahua apparently confirmed the defeat of the outlaws. Secretary Lansing said today that department border agents, upon information secured from natives, report that 250 Villa bandits attacked a force of 150 Carranza soldiers and were driven off. A second engagement followed in which the outlaws retreated. One Mexican asserted that Villa himself was present during the engagement.

ZIGZAG POLICY OF PRESIDENT IS DENOUNCED

proper one to take towards the then president; and it is the proper one to take towards the present president.

First Criticism of Wilson
I never uttered one word of criticism of President Wilson until a year and a half after he was elected president. If he had stood by the honor and the interest of the American people, I would have thrown up my hat for him, and would have supported him heart and soul. I not only have not done this during the last eighteen months or two years. I tried actively to support him. The only errors I have made in connection with Mr. Wilson were due to incalculably accepting his statements and supporting his policies in the effort to "stand by the president."

It was with deep reluctance that I was forced to the conclusion that the effort to stand by him was incompatible with standing by the interests of mankind, and the honor of this nation. But in my view where there is no alternative for any honorable man, when once I become convinced, as I am convinced, that the conscience of this people has been seared, and its moral sense dulled by the leadership of the administration and of congress during the last three years. These false servants of the people have taught us to enjoy soft ease and swollen wealth in the present without taking any effective step to ward off ruinous disaster in the future. These false servants of the nation have betrayed the soul of the nation.

Peace at Any Price

The supporters of Mr. Wilson say that the American people should vote for him because he has kept us out of war. It is worth while to remember that this is a claim that cannot be advanced either on behalf of the nation.

RUMANIANS ARE CRUSHED BY THE TEUTON FORCES

ports the repulse of British attacks on this front.

During September the British on the Somme lost almost 120,000 officers and men. This is at the rate of 3,800 a day, but falls below the daily human cost for August. Since the offensive began, figures published in London show that the British have lost approximately 260,000 men.

The Overseas News Agency announces that it is stated on "competent authority" that Germany has reached no new decision concerning submarine warfare. The statement minimizes articles appearing in German newspapers regarding American aviators serving with the entente allies and declares that the German government does not consider such acts breaches of neutrality.

Rumanians Are Routed
BUCHAREST, Sept. 30.—(Via London, Oct. 1.)—The retreat of the Rumanians from the Hermannstadt district is admitted in the official communication from headquarters. The Rumanians were attacked on all sides the statement says, and retreated southward after fighting they were through enemy forces attacking them from the south.

Wilson Edited Proclamation for Carranza
Senor Arredondo, ambassador for Carranza at Washington, and myself. In connection with the fact that Mr. Land declares he knew of no one named Cole during his Mexican work, it is interesting to note the contents of a letter written by Mr. Lind to Mr. Cole, dated September 2, in which the Mexican states that he was probably one of the most widely known and influential men in Florence. He stood at all times for a progress reform, advancement, in municipal affairs and the broader political circles of the country and state as has made his name a synonym for all that is worthy and acceptable in public service. He had many friends throughout the Wilson administration, the department of state, and the Catholic church. He frankly states that "it is hard to play against loaded dice."

This letter, a facsimile of which is produced herewith, says: "Thanks for your kind and interesting letter. You refer to 'Secy' and 'Secy. L.' I assume that the two references are not to the same person. I am astonished but not surprised to learn of the find in the embassy. Things have been said and done in the department at times that are inexplicable on any basis except a confirmed prejudice against the Carranza government."

"It is hard to play against loaded dice—but if Carranza keeps his head level and his friends are discreet and co-operate all along the line all obstacles will be overcome."

"Well, the cardinal has come and gone—carrying as I assume an olive branch for the Kaiser in one hand and a sword for poor Mexico in the other. Time and patience settle most problems."

"Remember me kindly to Mrs. Cole. Yours truly,"

"JOHN LIND."
It is another interesting fact to note that John Lind is now out on a speaking tour for President Wilson, whose administration he was not slow to knock in the letter quoted above. William Jennings Bryan, who was induced, while secretary of state, to endorse the campaign for the recognition of Carranza, through the efforts of Richard L. Metcalf, was interviewed at Helena, Montana, on Monday last regarding the statements of Mr. Cole. Mr. Bryan refused to either affirm or deny the statement of Mr. Cole that the proclamation issued by Carranza, which led to his recognition by President Wilson, was drawn up and approved in the presence of Mr. Bryan and the others mentioned in Mr. Cole's narrative.

"I have not read the story," said Mr. Bryan, "but if I had I would not care to discuss anything in connection with the state department, whether relating to Mexico or Europe."

official account of these operations follows: "During the night the enemy shelled heavily our battle front south of the Aene. We consolidated the ground won yesterday morning at Destremont farm, northwest of Le Sars and improved our position in the Thiepval area.

"Enemy counter attacks were beaten off in the neighborhood of the Staff redoubt and the Hessian trench. The fighting in this section yesterday was very severe and our troops engaged a division of the new army, showing great endurance and resolution.

"A successful raid was made by a London territorial battalion south of Neuville St. Vaast, where the enemy's trenches were entered and many prisoners were taken."
